

Why Chary

“An adolescent paragon, unable to affect change in an ailing society, defies all and embarks on a crusade to lift up an abandoned soul and be the hero he dreams”

Writer/Director Notes:

I wrote Chary In 2019 after seeing the displaced population grow in California and nationwide. I aspired to highlight the issue homelessness and examine why we are so chary to help?

Using the media of moving images allows us to explore and better understand our world and ourselves. We can create heroes and do amazing things we could only dream.

In 2020 I cast my son in his first role and wrangled my family and friends into a small film crew. With a lot of favors, hard work and a little luck, over the course of nearly 2 years Chary was complete!
