Logline

Vicky struggles to get a job in the bank when she finds her former friend on the interview panel the conflict arises.

Synopsis

A virus was sent to the bank system stealing 2 million every after 2 hours. The bank is on panic to remove this virus and urgently calls for experts to handle the situation where Vicky applies and later on called for interview.

Vicky a determined and talented software engineer with physical disability decides to take on this interview for cyber security manager in this bank where she meets Jennifer her former friend who used to send her tasks from this bank, Jennifer knowing her potential and the master plan of this virus she prevents her from going for interview.

While the interviews are soon ending Martha one of the interviewers steps out for a phone call where she find disappointed Vicky sited in her wheel chair and realizes that Vicky was not interviewed yet her CV showed great potential and at the same time the time is up another theft was yet to happen.
