COCAINE

ROACH

In the underbelly of Oakland, California, notorious cross-dressing drug dealer Ra'Manga (Tory Scroggins) rules her empire with an iron fist. When a high-stakes deal goes down, Ra'Manga dispatches her loyal enforcer, Omar (Marlon Kenoly), along with two jittery clients, Skee (Gary Turner) and Jamaal (Josh Alvin), to a stash house that's seen better days. Skee's girlfriend Tanisha (Elise Hollywood Evans) also joins the three to complicate matters. What they don't know is that the dilapidated stash house has a terrifying secret: it's infested with roaches driven mad by a hidden cache of cocaine.

As Omar, Skee, Tanisha, and Jamaal wait for the deal to go down, they encounter a series of bizarre and dangerous situations. The roaches, empowered and made aggressive by the cocaine, swarm with an unnatural fury, turning the simple transaction into a nightmarish battle for survival. All four must use every ounce of cunning and courage to fend off the relentless, drug-fueled insects while securing the merchandise.

Meanwhile, tension mounts back at Ra'Manga's headquarters. Her trusted confidantes, Steele (Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs), and sharp-witted Vinny (Todd Senofonte), have different plans for Ra'Manga's drug operation. Ra'Manga must deal with an unexpected betrayal within her ranks, threatening to topple her empire.

"Cocaine Roach" features gripping performances by Elise Hollywood Evans, Marlon Kenoly, Tory Scroggins and Gary Turner. Making her debut is Amarise McFadden as Denise, Tanisha's daughter. Also starring is Todd Senofonte, Angela Biddy, Tyona Bowman, Freejack, Raymond Henderson Sr., and Ronkat Spearman. "Cocaine Roach" is a pulse-pounding thriller that blends action, horror, and dark comedy.

"Cocaine Roach" takes viewers on a wild ride through a surreal world where crime, betrayal, and survival collide in the most unexpected ways.
