Synopsis: This is an Indian middle class drama based on ongoing Independent Society. Divya is an unmarried mother who is raising her child by herself. She is getting forced by her parents to marry any man for the sake of completing her family, as they have faced backlash from orthodox society. After having a bad experience from past wedding proposals, she has started believing that every marriage proposal approaching her is due to some compulsion. But as the story unfolds, she meets a man that will change her belief and make her feel love again.

Director's Note or Statement on the Film:

With prior experience in making some short films, I gained confidence to develop this story into a feature length film. This is a story inspired by a real incident that happened around me which made me think of multiple perspectives of society I am living in, back story and emotional journey of the person facing such situations.

Is being a single, unmarried mother such a stigma that a woman is forced to compromise when looking for a legitimate life partner?

My film tackles such societal imbalances.

Films Length: 90 minutes

Language: Hindi

Rising in love film is shot in a very beautiful city Dehradun, which beautifully portrays the tone of the films, Hope with its greenery, Warmth in its room.

This Film is made with the Pure Dedication with all the Teams members, as all the cast and crew members are from theater groups. With the helping of Our Theater Circle we had achieved to make this Film in the duration of 20 Days.

We were aware of all the small elements and organic nature we had to portray. With all the costumes, properties, locations and surroundings we tried to create patterns and metaphors. This is a story of little hopes we live with to face all the daily struggles of our lives and eventually reaching our hopes and achieving the mental comfort.

It is a Self-Independent Film with no producers involved, all the hard work and Finances are done by Director and all the Team Members.
