VIREON FILMS ANNOUNCES COMPLETION OF AWARD-WORTHY SHORT FILM, THE NOTE

An emotionally powerful mother-daughter story begins its journey across select film festivals.

ATLANTA, GA — April 7, 2025 — VIREON FILMS proudly announces the completion of its latest narrative short, THE NOTE—a six-minute cinematic gem that delivers an emotionally charged exploration of love, regret, and healing between a mother and daughter. Produced and directed by indie filmmaker Victoria Lynn Weston, the film is now set to debut at select festivals nationwide.

Reminiscent of the intimate close-ups made legendary by Ingmar Bergman, THE NOTE captures the emotional terrain of its characters in raw, unflinching detail—every glance and breath a story in itself. Anchored by standout performances, the film stars Caroline Carter, who brings a commanding, Meryl Streep-like presence to the role of Margaret, a mother grappling with guilt, grief, and the ghost of what was left unsaid. Tara Kaye delivers a haunting performance as Cara—edgy, restless, and wounded, the rebellious daughter who returns for one last chance at connection. Brian Childers brings quiet depth to the role of Dad, grounding the story’s emotional weight.

With hauntingly intimate cinematography, emotionally resonant framing, and immersive sound design, THE NOTE blends cinematic storytelling with raw human drama to create a quietly powerful, unforgettable experience.

“Completing THE NOTE was a labor of love—but more than that, it was a way to shine a light on the unspoken grief and love that often exists between mothers and daughters,” said Victoria Lynn Weston, whose previous work has been featured on PBS and honored at film festivals nationwide. “If this story helps even one person reach out, forgive, or be heard, then the journey was worth it.”
