IN CARAVAGGIO'S
FEVERED FINAL
MOMENTS, WHERE THE BOUNDARY BETWEEN
FLESH AND SPIRIT BLURS,
HIS PASSIONS WILL BLAZE ETERNALLY
THROUGH HIS PAINTINGS.

In Caravaggio's Last Day, I created a visual poem—intimate framing to capture his sensuality, chiaroscuro lighting to mirror his art, and kinetic camera movement to place viewers inside his final desperate journey. Though shot in New York, our team unearthed hidden locations and used pigment-like transitions to honor the tragedy of a queer genius gone too soon. -Paolina Weber
