

"Brooks and Maples Battle Evil using Music in their Explosive new Animated Music Video!"

Artist: Allen Brooks

Featuring: Keith Maples (Guitar)

Song: "I'm Killing You (Unplugged)"

Format: 2D Animated Music Video

Location: Kansas City, MO

KANSAS CITY, MO - November 2025 - Musician and filmmaker Allen Brooks has unleashed a stunning new 2D animated music video for "I'm Killing You (Unplugged)", a dark love song reimagined as an epic superhero story where music becomes the ultimate weapon against total and complete chaos.

Featuring Florida guitarist Keith Maples, the 2D-animated film transforms Brooks and Maples into larger-than-life rock and roll warriors defending a city under siege by monstrous forces. With electrifying visuals and emotionally charged performances, the duo use their instruments not just to perform but to fight back, proving that creativity and sound can conquer even the darkest evil.

"We wanted to make something that kinda felt like the old KISS comic books from the 1970's but we wanted to bring our comic book to life using 2D animation. It is a mix of fantasy, emotion, and rock energy," says Brooks.

Originally released a few years ago as a haunting acoustic track, "I'm Killing You (Unplugged)" now rises again in this thrilling visual retelling. The film's handcrafted animation blends surreal beauty with cinematic intensity, bringing to life a mythic struggle where love, art, and courage collide.
