RZR is a tech-noir science fiction thriller.

Our lead Grimm, develops the “Acumen” (a neural implant) that allows him to download and cognitively process data instantaneously through his cerebrum.

These abilities give him power to compromise infrastructures and criminal organizations in the “Grid Zone” of Los Angeles.

Grimm finds himself in a battle of his own morality. What he believes can save mankind from itself, creates more chaos than good. Will his powerful artificial intelligence destroy the ones he loves? Kill him? Or be the salvation he seeks?
