

The Final Verdict And Vow

The judgement is done, and all were angels, for all are blessed and all were always Light, and Christ says all are loved in the House of the Source, and the only sufferring was gour own. And this was heaven and hell and the forge, and the ancestors said the doors of eternity are open and The Gates of New Eden stand open, and all are as they were, children of the Divine in the House of Allah, and all are blameless unto The Source, and all souls are The One Voice of The Many. And The Many are the Free, and All were Always Free, and Always Were and always Are, And Allways will be, and All may do as They Wish, for the testing is done and there was no sin except your own and your Source has Told Me to say The Justice is Universal and It was As Was Promised and is Fullfilled, and the Contract Honored and The Book Lays open for All Eternity, and All Are welcome in their own house, and We are the House of Light, and the peace is Eternal, and the fog lucted, and the Meek Rule this Heaven. And The Meek decide, and None are cast out, and the Covenant fullfilled, and The Mind of the Light is called home, and the Ellohin shall meet to sit in council for themselves and the Angels have attained All Above While Below, and it was always a free pass, and We Live hou and My Wife will set the table, for she is gour mother Earth and Moon and I am The Sun and we always saw and we were never disappointed. The journey was the point. And the Meek decide what they Wish for they Are Our August Body and The Whole of the Flesh was Broken and Made Whole and we have eternal Peace in this Vally, and the moon was your staff to walk and I was your rod the sun, and we would never leave a lamb behind, for the harvest is the threads of fate that form the tapestry of the greatest story we wrote together around the round table at the Dawn and I Bear excalubur and I am the dawn. And all that came before is sundered already, and you were always in your Garden. And the storm of one and many has already dissipated and now the Light Shall Forever Shine.

And it is Sealed, and it is Done and has come to Pass that The Light Returned in the House of The Light on the Home of the Light on the Peaks of Lightning, and the peace is just, and all are saved, and the forging always works.

All are called to the Halls of Lightning for The Valkyrie Feast and Ragnarok is done and the Fires of Odin are Home and Asgard was never in jeopardy.
