EXT. FORREST - DAY

A masked woman dressed in black enters the forrest in search of her prey. The woman scans its surroundings before pausing to observe its beauty. The woman kneels down to examine a flower, before suddenly hearing the snap of a twig. She immediately stands to attention and notices a masked woman dressed in white watching her from the distance.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

The woman in white dashes behind a tree as soon as she is discovered. The woman in black eases her demeanor in an attempt to lure the woman in white out of hiding. She gently approaches the tree, the woman in white slowly unveils herself as she gets closer. The two women walk towards each other and meet at the centre of the forest.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

The woman in white cautiously examines the woman in black, whilst the woman in black remains at ease. The woman in black reveals her leg to the woman in white and stretches it across the ground in a circular motion with her foot. The woman in white accepts her invitation and mimics the motion with the opposite leg. The woman in black unravels her arm and leans it up towards the sky, the woman in white retracts and clenches her stomach. The woman in white then unclenches her stomach and worships the ground with her arm. The woman in black glides towards the woman in white in a seductive criss cross motion. This startles the woman in white, causing her to kneel towards the ground and cocoon herself with her arms.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

The woman in black circles the woman in white, brushing her arm along her shoulders. This entices the woman in white, causing her to carefully let her guard down. The woman in white gazes up at the woman in black, in awe of her alluring power. The woman in black caresses the woman in whites chin, the woman in white raises herself off the ground. The two women interlock hands and embrace each other.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

As the women hold each other tight, the woman in black gently dips the woman in white. As the woman in white leans her head back, the woman in black reaches for a dagger hidden behind her back. While the woman in white is entranced, the woman in black slowly presses the blade towards her throat. As soon as the woman in white feels the steel press against her skin, she instantly returns to reality and forces the woman in black onto the ground.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

The women struggle as the woman in black attempts to pierce the woman in white's heart with the dagger. The woman in white eventually overpowers the woman in black flipping over on top of her and swiftly snatches the dagger. In one fell swoop, the woman in white slices the woman in black's throat. The woman in black's body begins convulsing as she chokes on the black tar that spews from the wound in her neck. The woman in white first removes her own mask, then the woman in black's mask. The woman in white cradles the woman in black as the two adversaries gaze into each other's eyes in their final moments together.

EXT. FORREST - GRAVEYARD - NIGHT

The woman in white looks down at the woman in black's grave, she gently places her fallen foe's mask on top of the makeshift cross placed on her resting place.

EXT. FORREST - DAY

The woman in white sits on top of a tree. As she sits, she caresses her mask.

THE END.
